DECKING & RAILING CONSIDERATIONS

Bring your backyard vision to life when you build your ideal deck and pair it with the perfect railing. Before you break ground on your build, take the following questions into consideration.

- Consider the architectural style and color story of your existing home. Which decking and railing combos would best complement them?
- If you're planning for a deck with an adventurous design, have you found a contractor that has experience with complex builds?
- When it comes to railing, are you looking to keep your views unobstructed with something minimal or make a bold style statement?
- Which railing profile do you prefer: classic millwork, modern and minimalist, or a sleek drink rail?
